Dear Parents,

Author Visit: Edward Treyer (Billy Bob Buttons)

I am delighted to advise you that the children's author, Edward Treyer will be visiting our school again on Monday 18th January 2016. Edward is the author of several children's and young adult's books, including the Felicity Brady series, Muffin Monster and the hilarious, award-winning I think I Murdered Miss.

On Monday, Edward will be hosting writing workshops with Years 2 and 3 which will support their English and Creative Curriculum learning. Edward will be basing the workshops around his new book, 'The boy who piddled in his Grandad's slippers'.

At the end of the morning, there will also be a book signing opportunity. The children will be able to buy a signed copy of Edward's new book which he will then sign for them to take away and keep. The book usually retails at £8.95 but the price of the book on the day will be at £4 which reflects a generous discount from Edward and a school subsidy. Please note however that there is no obligation to buy the books and this is very much parental choice.

We very much look forward to this opportunity to welcome Edward back to our school and appreciate your continued support with these exciting events at The Bluecoat School.

Kind Regards

Miss S. Kinchin
